This weekend in worship, our focus in worship will be on . . . Love. No big surprise this Valentine's weekend. But instead of the usual way we think about love, I invite you to consider A Consistent Ethic of Love. No matter what the situation, the ethic of love is more important than any other loyalty or allegiance we may have.

This can be difficult at times because we have other loyalties and other ties that make us want to make a decision that may not be based on love, but rather is influenced by other loyalties.

We're seeing lots of examples of this in the national news as Senators and Representatives are faced with balancing party loyalty and their conscience. But this is a personal matter as well, as I imagine that all of us struggle from time-to-time to live by love even when it's not convenient or beneficial to us.

How are you consistent in love and how do you need to grow in making sure that you are guided by a consistent ethic of love?

1 Corinthians 13 and Philippians 1:27-28

I hope you are well. We are seeing promising trends in the news about the decline of hospitalizations, cases, and deaths. At the same time, the variants keep us on high-alert.

So I encourage you to consider getting the vaccines and if you have any uncertainty, please check with your doctor. And if you need some assistance in signing-up for the vaccine, you can call the church office. We will do what we can to assist you.

See you in worship!
